

RATEPAYERS!

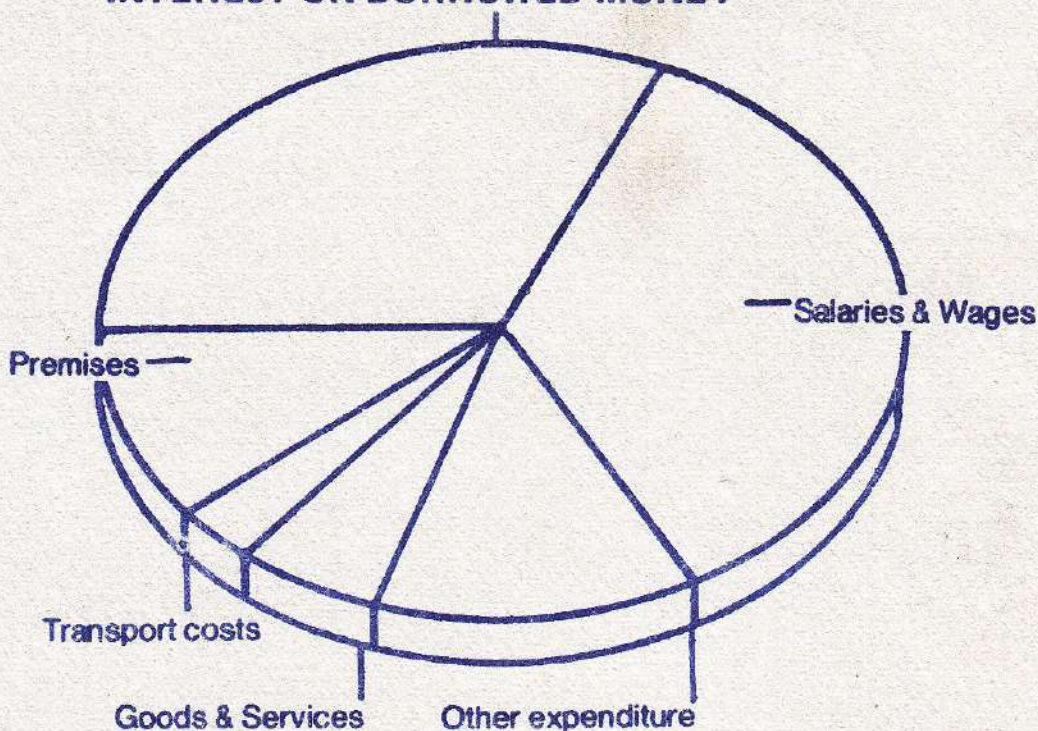

How much ratepayers' money does your council waste?

Ratepayers throughout the country face an annual rates bill which rises by thirty or forty per cent each year. What do local authorities spend your hard-earned money on?

INTEREST

Many local authorities, particularly the supposed "Left-wing" ones, spend the largest part of their income on 'servicing' their debts. This means that ratepayers see no tangible end result for their efforts in scrimping and saving enough to meet their rates demand. Millions of pounds is being raked off by enormously wealthy and powerful merchant banks and international financiers.

INTEREST ON BORROWED MONEY

A TYPICAL LONDON BOROUGH'S ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE MERCHANT BANKS.

● The National Front says:

Scrap this iniquitous system of interest-slavery. Replace it by setting up municipal banks to provide interest free loans for housing and other essential services.

LUXURIES

Too many councils spend too much money on minority pastimes. The ordinary man in the street is not interested in artificial ski-slopes, 'avant-garde' Arts Centres and piles of scrap metal masquerading as sculpture. Too many councillors are paying themselves fat salaries and expenses. Too many councils are using the excuse of boundary reorganisation to build for themselves luxury, centralised town halls, often far away from the areas they serve. The over-expansion of many Social Services departments often provides a comfortable niche for trendy-Lefty do-gooders, and the unhealthy over-dependance of many who could otherwise fend for themselves quite easily.

● The National Front says:

Cut down on all over-spending at once, and put more money into the things that matter — housing, education and essential welfare facilities for our old folk.

IMMIGRATION

Many councils, particularly those in big, urban areas, spend vast amounts of rate-payers' money on facilities solely for immigrants, including special language classes and holiday camps. Many councils have given Chilean and Ugandan immigrants priority in housing. Ratepayers also pay for the running costs of Community Relations Councils which are often run by Communists, and agitate for preference for immigrants in jobs and housing. Some CRCs have even taken part in Communist riots against the National Front.

● The National Front says:

Stop doling out rates to Communists. Stop giving immigrants preference. Scrap the anti-British Community Relations Councils and restore some sanity to race relations by stopping immigration and commencing a policy of phased repatriation.
